In addition to small banks issuing these notes shopkeepers also issued them. All went well while the Foochow trade was flourishing; but as the decay of the tea trade took place on the 12th June at the Theosophical of the port affected the shopkeepers as well | Hall, Pettah, Colombo. Colombo Cottstood sponas the merchants, many of the former closed their shops, in many cases without any assets to meet the notes. When there was a run upon the bank or shop issuing the notes those people who were unable to receive cash for the notes they held took the law into their own hands, frequently plundering the shops. and, in some cases, commencing to pull the louses to pieces. These occurrences were becoming so frequent that the authorities found themselves called upon to interfere. and proclamations were issued declaring all notes of 100 and 200 cash to be illegal tender. To replace these notes the provincial treasury, had issued 10 cent and 20 cent silver coins, some of which they at first obtained from the Canton Mint, but which plantation near the seventh milestone on Thomthey rejected later in favour of the Hong- son Road. Consul-General at Sh nghai, I have now to subnot for your Lordship's consideration copy of a project which was formulated by the British residen be at that port against the proposed change. It will not escape your Lordship's notice that the grounds of objection there stated are substandally the same as those indicated in this A sociation's previous lette . Briefly stated they are that, in the condition of Shaugha life th - presence of a Consul-General who is an experin Chinese language, customs, and habits of thought is of paramount importance; that change which involves the appointment to that post of a trained lawyer is therefore likely to result in grave inconvenience. It is obviously difficult to bring out clearly within the limits of a petition arguments that depend in some measure for their force upon an app ciation of local conditions. Is venture therefore to submit certain additional considerations which may serve to illustrate the arguments put forward.

The case of Constantinople may not improbab v have been present in the minds of your Lordship's advisers when it was proposed to remedel the Shanghai establishment on a somewhat similar footing. But that very case may be cited to exhibit the differences which local oiroumstances import into conditions that may seem speciously analogous. For H.M.'s Lega. tion to Constantinople is there locate | and ready naturally, at any time, to undertake what re- up to Chung-king until a Chinese steamer has Tokio China lives five or six days' journey from Shanghai, and is therefore inaccessible in cases of emergency, to say nothing of the requirements in junks by men who in many places are comof current intercourse. It must be remembered pelled to wade through the stream. also that in a country where the administration is much decentralised, the provincial authorities settle matters affecting their own province: so that, while the Consular duties are restricted presumably in one case to judicial and routine functions, they extend in the other to constant negotiations with the local and provincial officials.

Clearly, an officer called on to discharge such functions should, as the memorishists aree, "cocupy a high and independent position and have had long experience in dealing with Chinese officia s." That experience can only be acquired soon from 13 deg. N. by personal familiarity with the people, their language and customs, and can certainly not be looked for in one who has had an exclusively logal training: while it can scarcely encourage members of the Consular service in an exceptionally difficult career, to find themselves excluded from the bist appointment to which they could

NOTICE.

THAN WAI TSUN, the Father of the Undersigned, having on the 26th day of March, 1890, depos ted a nm of $5, 00 for one year in the Hongkonr and Shanghai Banking Corporation, subsequently died leaving us some Property under a Will which was duly proved in the Supreme Court of Hongkong. The steamers of this line have superior accom- and Probate granted thegeunder. After his ecdation for first-class passengers at moderate leath we found that the Annual Deposit Receipt for the $5,000 was Missing, and the Loss thereof was reported to the Bank, and advortised in the Chinese Newspapers. On the 17th instant the Bank Chief Manager and the Compressoro, Mr. Lo Hok Peng, have been kind and courteous enough to order the amount together with Interest to be rofunded to us upon PUTTFARCKEN & Co. the Security of Mr. No Saul Sano; and in recognition of such Rindness and courtesy their commercial integrity and uprig stress. we cause this notice to be published. So whoever nomes to possess the Bank Receipt for the $5.000 as intentioned above cannot make use of it to go to the Bank to slaim he maney.

NOW ON SALE. IMPERIAL QUARTO. INGLISH AND CHINESE DICייוONARY. WITH THE PUSTI AND MANDARIN PRONUNCTATION.

In Angle-Chinese Dictionary, published at the Daily Press Office, Hongkong, For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have of late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous oblects in machinery, photography. Stelegraphy. and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in extenso. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typegraphy lisplays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size if body, thereby effecting a vast economy of case, achieving a clearness not previously strained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore charactorized Chinese publications. To illustrate the vast scope of the work the following facts are submitted for consideration:— Chalmers' Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Madhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 690,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammers and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various applications and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples this work contains more than five times as many as any other Dictionary hitheric pub-

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable at all |25 | Europeans residing in China and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To parties resident in England and interested 4 150, indicated H.P. each, and tested to in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-
